Dear Cy:

I read with more than a little interest of your appointment as General Counsel of the Department of Defense. I would like to offer you the warmest congratulations. Also, I want to welcome you again to the Washington scene.

In your new assignment I am sure our paths will cross again but, in any event, I would like you to know that if in any way you believe the Agency or I can be of any assistance, we would be most happy to hear from you.

Best wishes in your new tasks and I know the Department will benefit from your advice and counsel.

Sincerely,

W. S. Warner

John S. Warner
